VOLUME III—NUMBER 40 PADUCAH, KENTUCKY THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 10 1908 TEN CENTS PER WEEK

BOTH SIDES CONFIDENT.

The House of Representatives Very Close, But Probably Republican By Safe Majority.

Kentucky to Carry at Least One Republican Congressman—But There May Be Several Others.

Washington, Nov. 10.—The congressional returns have not yet been such as to determine the complexion of the next house beyond any doubt. Both the democratic and republican managers are claiming a majority in the house. The returns seem to indicate that the republicans will finally have a majority though it will be small.

The senate is considered to be republican after March 4, by a safe majority.

IN THE NINTH.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 10.—Both Pugh and Williams are still claiming to be elected in the ninth district. The margin will be very close either way, and it will take the official count to determine the result.

IN THE TENTH.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 10.—Complete returns in the tenth district gives Fitzpatrick, democrat, 1,900 majority over Setz, republican. Setz will, however, make a contest.

IN THE SECOND.

Owensboro, Ky., Nov. 10.—The rumor that W. T. Fowler, the defeated regular republican candidate in this district, will make a contest, is regarded here as a huge joke, as the election of a republican in this district with a united party and a full vote would be an impossibility.

REPUBLICAN VICTORIES.

Washington, Nov. 10.—The house now seems republican beyond any doubt, though Kerr, the democratic chairman, still claims a democratic majority.

The republicans have elected 183 members and the democrats and fusionists 164, with 10 districts doubtful and unreported.

The next United States senate will be 55 republicans and 35 democrats and fusionists.

WIRE PLAYS HAVOC.

The insulation wore off and charged the iron work.

The insulation on an electric light wire at Cochran & Owen's wore off in one place this morning, and where it touched the iron work, ran down and must have charged all the metal in the vicinity.

Several people who accidentally touched the posts, manifested their pain and surprise in a most laughable manner, and when the people caught on, pending the arrival of an electrician, they stood around and watched the victims. One boy touched the post in front of the shoe store, and his yell could have been heard a block. Simultaneously a girl at the delicatessen did the same thing, and there was another brief disturbance. The live wire was finally straightened out.

WARRANTED FOR PERJURY.

Pinkney Childers, in Trying to Get Out of Trouble, Gets In.

Prosecuting Attorney Wheeler Campbell will swear out a warrant this afternoon against Pinkney Childers, charging him with perjury.

Childers is the soldier who is trying to get out of a fine in the police court this morning, swore that he did not strike a boy named Dunn, when there were four witnesses who swore that he did. His fine was but one cent and costs, and he will have it to work out now. The case against him is clear.

Childers is a member of the volunteers, and is said to be a deserter, having been here about 60 days. He has discarded his uniform.

STAMP COLLECTIONS.

They Are Falling Off at Present. Collections Decreased Last Month.

Stamp Deputy W. J. White states that the collections on revenue stamps have fallen off considerably during the past month or two. They averaged at first, when the new law went into effect, $1,800 or $2,000 a month. Last month the collections were about $1,500.

Mr. White explains the decrease by the fact that now most of the stamps, especially on drugs, are placed by the manufacturer, instead of the druggists. The druggists when the law was new had to stamp all the goods they had in stock, but now it is all stamped when it reaches them. It is true of chewing gum, also. There is a large amount brought here, and it is all stamped.

SEEN IN MEMPHIS.

Adolph Feller Alleged to Be There—Recognized by a Friend.

Mr. Columbus Turner returned last night from Memphis, and reports that he saw on the streets there yesterday, Adolph Feller, the grocer who so suddenly left home a few days ago, assigning no cause for his departure to his family.

Mr. Turner formerly worked with the groceryman, and says he walked back to be certain he was not mistaken.

ONE SLIGHTLY HURT.

There were four or five drummers in the hack wrecked at Monroe and Sixth last night. One, Mr. Joe Robertson, was slightly bruised, and one of the others was hurt, but not seriously. The wreck was occasioned by the driver of another hack crowding the lamp post as they turned the corner. The drummers in both hacks say the accident was due to the recklessness of the other driver.

SUPT. RENSHAW HERE.

Supt. Wm. Renshaw, of Machinery, arrived yesterday afternoon from Chicago, and was in the city for several hours. It is understood he is here to look after the approaching increase in force in the repair shop.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The case of Mrs. Hattie Myers against the Manhattan Insurance company, will be given to the jury this afternoon. Arguments were begun this morning.

WENT TO HOPKINSVILLE.

Sheriff Rogers left this morning at 7:45 o'clock with Henrietta Puckett, colored, the woman adjudged insane yesterday afternoon in the circuit court.

HACK WRECKED.

One of Mr. Courtney Long's carriages collided with a curbing at Sixth and Monroe streets last night and had the springs and singletree broken, completely disabling it.

FIGHTING HAS BEGUN.

Four Whites and Four Negroes Slain in Wilmington North Carolina Today.

Both Sides Arming and Much More Serious Trouble Is Feared—Negro Editor's Office Destroyed.

Wilmington, N. C., Nov. 10.—The negroes have refused to heed the warnings given them yesterday to leave town and the result is that a clash has occurred and four on each side have been killed.

This morning a mob of 1000 white men attacked the office of the negro editor and burned it to the ground.

At noon today the whites and negroes clashed, and a general fight followed in which four white men and four negroes were killed. Fully a dozen more on each side were wounded.

The situation has become most alarming. Guards patrol the streets and reinforcements are arriving for the whites from nearby towns.

Both sides are arming recruits. It is quiet this afternoon, but an outbreak is expected tonight.

Later.—The latest advices are that eight negroes and five white men wounded.

GEORGE WILSON

Big Minstrel Company at Morton's Opera House Monday Night.

Merry George Wilson, of Wilson's Model minstrels, which appears at Morton's opera house Monday night, Nov. 14th has managed many companies. He is a minstrel himself and is the most popular man in black-face comedy that the country has ever seen.

George Wilson is beloved by the masses and the mere mention of his coming sets the admirers of "Girls I Love You All," and "Waltz Me Again," a tingling of his speedy arrival. His act is unalloyed delight. This is not exaggeration, for the verdict of the press, rival minstrels and the public in general has stamped him as the wearer of the imperial purple in the merry realm of minstrelsy. He has organized a splendid company this year and our amusement going people can expect a fine entertainment at Morton's Monday night.

HELD UP.

Richard Scott Was Stopped By Highwaymen Last Night.

Richard Scott, a colored man employed at Glauber's stable, was walking up Sixth street last night early, when two or three men whom he met stopped him and threw a pistol into his face. The terrified driver threw up his hands, but the men, who were white, told him he was the wrong man, and permitted him to continue his journey.

OFF ON A HUNT.

Hon. Oscar Turner Passes Through En Route to Ballard.

Hon. Oscar Turner, who was elected congressman from the Louisville district Tuesday, and a party composed of Mr. Murrell F. Buckner, formerly of the city, A. P. Carey, of Texas, and George and Carroll Hamilton, of Cincinnati, passed through the city last night en route to Mr. Turner's farm in Ballard county, where they will enjoy a hunt as a recreation after the campaign.

The remains of W. S. Dunn, aged 60 years, were buried this morning. He had been ill at his home near Oaks, this county, for nearly two weeks, and no one was with him when he died. He had resided in that section for two or three years, but no one knew anything about him, except that he and his wife separated because they could not agree.

PECULIAR CASE.

The Bride to Be Had No Relatives and No Guardian.

A peculiar case, and one never known to occur here before, was a feature of an application for marriage license yesterday afternoon in the county clerk's office.

Mr. Wallace E. McCaig, a railroad fireman, and Miss Artie M. Clark applied for a license to marry. The groom is twenty-four, but the bride-to-be was only seventeen, which necessitated the consent of her parents or guardian. It then developed that she had neither father, mother, sister, brother, any other near relative, nor a guardian. Under the law no license could be issued to her without the proper consent, as she was not of age, so the officials got a move on themselves and found Mr. J. Gish, who was then and there appointed her guardian by the county court. He immediately, after qualifying, gave his consent to the marriage, the license was issued, and he then resigned. All left happy, and the marriage occurred last night. Both reside in the city.

He became very boisterous and when he had eaten refused to pay for what he had ordered. An officer was called, and he was looked up. He soon became so drunk that he was no longer disorderly, and when court convened, was unable to attend. He was fined $5 and costs, and if he wants a trial tomorrow when he gets sober, he can get it.

They Took the Town—Entertained by the Hospitable People.

The members of Paducah Lodge of Elks who went to Cairo yesterday morning have reason to congratulate themselves. They had a royal time, and were entertained in a most sumptuous manner by the hospitable people of Cairo.

On the boat their banquet was attended by some of the most prominent people of Cairo, including Mr. John Z. Miller, the veteran jeweler, who formerly lived here. His reminiscences were very entertaining.

The Halliday house was thrown open to them, and they were not allowed to spend their money anywhere. The Paducah crowd took the band around and serenaded the prominent citizens. About one hour was spent in walking about Cairo, and the boat returned to Paducah about 11 o'clock.

A GREAT SURGEON.

Genius of Carl Thiersch—Took Real Interest in His Patients.

Thiersch is reported to have said of himself that he was really an anatomist gone astray. In the interest of suffering humanity, however, it was surely well that he turned from anatomy to surgery, for he was a surgeon not only the necessary firmness of eye and hand, but also a sovereign calmness that even in the most trying situations never failed him. Above all, the most beautiful quality that a great physician can have was his; he was possessed of delicate sensibilities, and was thoroughly humane in his disposition. The last quality was perhaps the most prominent of Thiersch's many virtues, yet it was the one he endeavored most carefully to conceal. He burdened his heart with every one of his seriously sick patients; in critical cases he hurried to the hospital at the most unusual times, and if, contrary to his expectations, a serious operation resulted unsuccessfully, it was often days and even weeks, as Landerer tells us, before he could reconcile himself to the result. He would criticize himself severely in order to determine whether he had not some mistake or neglect with which to reproach himself. Thiersch's favorite resort was the

COL. BRYAN was just sick enough to get a furlough in time to get his vote in.

A SHOT gun isn't an argument, but there is no doubt of its convincing qualities.

WHAT will the Bryanites do in 1902? There is no populist thunder left for them to steal.

It is ex-Gov. Altgeld would get rid of his money, his talk about the poor being walked over by the rich would be more seriously received.

The European politicians are already hunting a new wife for the emperor of Austria, and report says they may go to Spain after her.

The Kaiser is displeased because his Jerusalem tour did not make as much of a stir in the world as he expected. He probably did not get the right man for press agent.

NEBRASKA has gone republican! No wonder Bryan couldn't talk at St. Louis, he had already talked too much, and didn't want to increase the republican majorities.

SPAIN is only anxious to let herself down easy. It was announced in Madrid, several days ago, that the demands of the United States should be agreed to, but under protest.

An epidemic of small pox has been raging for three years in the Holguin district in Cuba, there being at present more than 5,000 cases. Gen. Wood is taking steps to root it out.

The epidemic among rich women of making donations to educational institutions is one with which all of our millionaires might be inoculated with benefit to themselves and to the country.

He "don't say a word!" undoubtedly he must have heard. Yes, Wheeler was elected, but don't worry, you helped cause it, but didn't intend to. We all make mistakes sometimes.

FRANCE could not be coaxed, even by the promise of Russian backing, to do so foolish a thing as to fight England. France has trouble enough at home without going abroad after any.

The roosters were gotten out, but their crowing was exceedingly limited. The eagle is safely perched and views the situation with the assured satisfaction of not leaving a grease spot of the barn yard fowl in 1900.

The gentlemen who are saying that England is preparing for war so as to be ready to help the United States fight for the Philippines should tell an anxious people who is to fight on the other side; Spain cannot.

NOTWITHSTANDING repeated warnings of those on the ground, it looks as though there would be an exodus of young men without means from the United States to Porto Rico and Cuba this winter. Better stay at home, boys.

THERE seems to be something at the bottom of the sea that especially attracts Spanish warships. We couldn't get the Maria Teresa to New York after we had raised her, although she was manned by a good American crew.

MR. REEVES is a nice gentleman, a good speaker and an excellent campaigner, and really made as good a race as any man could have done, weighted down with populist dogmas as he was. The latch string is on the outside, and the light is still burning.

On every question of importance that has been before the public since its organization the republican party has advocated the side that stood for the betterment of the country, and consequently of the people at large, and it will continue to occupy the same position.

THE HAVANA editor, who charged, in a violent attack upon the United States, that this country was "governed by rum and ignorance," would find in his time to better advantage if he would try to discover some method of applying a little of the same sort of "rum and ignorance" to the government of Spain.

Those European papers that speak about "other powers seeking a share of spoil in the Philippines" must regard our demand for all the Philippines as a bluff. It is not. We are going to have those islands, and any "other powers" which attempt to interfere will have to fight the United States, and that is something that none of the powers want to do. Our gunboats shoot too straight.

GENERAL PEREZ, who commands some Cuban insurgents in the Santiago district, was informed by General Wood, United States commander of the district, that if he allowed the sentence of death, imposed by an insurgent court martial upon an insurgent, to be carried out, he and the members of the firing party would be hanged, as quick as the courts could legally sentence them. He was further informed that insurgent court martials would not be recognized in that district. Gen. Wood is the right man in the right place.

GOT OFF LIGHT.

He Swore He Did Not. But Four Others Swore He Did Slap the Boy.

Three Tough Men Fined for Having a Good Time With a Colored Driver.

Pinckney Caiders, a volunteer in the army who claims to be off on a furlough, was arraigned in the police court this morning on a charge of slapping a boy named Dunn. Two witnesses swore that the boy struck Caiders on the head with a rock, and that the latter turned around and slapped the boy in the mouth. Caiders swore he didn't; that the boy threw a second rock which bounced back and hit him in the mouth. He then introduced two witnesses in his own behalf, and there was considerable amusement when both of the witnesses swore that he did strike the boy in the mouth. Judge Sanders said there was considerable provocation, and that if the boy had been a little larger, he would have dismissed the case. He fined Caiders one cent and costs.

George Augustus, George Berger and John Mix were charged with throwing coal at Bud Dobson, who was driving a coal wagon. The trouble originated over Mix catching the wheels of the darkey's wagon and stopping it as it passed. They all then threw coal at each other, punctuated by a whiskey bottle and shovel, but when the smoke cleared away, no one was hurt, and the young men were fined $1 and cost each.

Al Davidson, for being drunk, was fined $1 and costs.

The case against Peyton Harris for abusing his wife was dismissed.

One Way of Doing It.

If you want to get even with a man, give his daughter a kodak. She will love you for it. It costs as much to run a kodak as to keep a horse, or bet on the races. The amount is small, but they are very numerous. Before a girl has learned enough to take and develop a single picture, her father will have paid out a sum sufficient to have paid for photographs by a professional of the entire family, the cow and dog included. It is a good scheme for making a man trouble, and getting credit for generosity in doing it.—Acheson Globe.

WAYS OF WOODPECKERS.

One of the Most Easily Distinguished Groups of Birds.

Woodpeckers as a class form one of the most striking and easily distinguished groups of birds, the entire family conforming to a certain type to a remarkable degree. Probably each of the 300 species could be safely described as a vigorous, muscular, heavy-bodied bird, with long wings, close-fitting plumage, and a strong, stiletto-shaped beak. Their legs and feet, like those of the parrots, cuckoos, etc., formerly placed in the same order, are short and stout, with the outer toe turned backward parallel with the hind toe as an aid in climbing. In certain species, however, this outer toe is entirely wanting.

Their peculiar method of gaining a livelihood has developed a gait perfectly adapted to their requirements; it is pointed and barbed at the tip for securing the larger insects, and is kept constantly coated with a mucous substance to which the smaller ones adhere. At the back of the mouth are sharp, pointed, and passing each side of the neck at the base of the skull is carried up over the top of the head, where the two portions join and are inserted in the right nostril. In the common hairy woodpecker, and possibly some others, it curves downward, and is wound about the bony case which protects the right eye, the latter projecting more than the left for its accommodation. This double bow enables the bird to shoot forward and contract the barbed tip with wonderful velocity, while the mucus is applied each time from two large glands at each side of the throat.—W. E. Cram, in Appleton's Popular Science Monthly.

The Northwest Passage.

Efforts were made to discover the Northwest passage by early navigators for the purpose of opening up a short route between Europe and Asia. By looking at a map of the world you can easily understand the advantage of such a route. Really there is such a route, but so far as commerce is concerned, it is useless, because a passage through it might consume years, on account of the dangers and stoppages in that region of perpetual ice. The only advantages gained from the numerous explorations was a knowledge of the animal and vegetable life, the topography and electrical conditions of the polar regions.—Golden Days.

Things That Cost Little.

Everything useful or necessary is cheap; walking is the most wholesome exercise, water the best drink, and plain food the most nourishing and healthy diet—even in knowledge, the most useful is the easiest acquired.

—People who are so good to their children in public often do not give them many kind words at home.—Washington Democrat.

—The average man will spend as much time telling stories about his dog as a woman will about her first baby.—Chicago News.
